Devonport Jazz Turns 25 – and You're Invited

In 2026, Devonport Jazz celebrates a major milestone: 25 years of live jazz on the north-west coast. What began as a small, passionate gathering has grown into one of the state's most loved music festivals - and the anniversary edition promises to be something special. This year's festival brings together a rich mix of Australian jazz greats, international guests and beloved Tasmanian performers, alongside the continued expansion of the Blues & Roots stream, adding soul, grit and groove to the program.

Among the special guests appearing across the festival are Michelle Nicolle, one of Australia's most respected jazz vocalists; the irrepressible George Washingmachine, bringing his trademark swing and violin magic; bass player and vocalist Nicki Parrott, whose international career has taken her from Sydney to New York and back; and the striking international duo Obradovic-Tixier, a dynamic piano-drums partnership from France and Croatia, known for their modern, high-energy sound.

For visitors keen to immerse themselves fully, the paranaple pass is the way to go - offering exceptional value with access to a wide range of ticketed performances across the festival weekend, centred around the beautiful paranaple arts centre and nearby venues.

Whether you're a longtime supporter or considering a jazz and blues weekend escape, Devonport Jazz 2026 is a wonderful excuse to head north, celebrate 25 years, and enjoy some world-class music by the sea.
